

LOS COLORES

Rojo Santa Clause dresses in red and says ho, ho, ho...rojo/a(s) - red.

Azul Lazu the sad, blue dog sneezes Azuu! If you repeat his name Lazu, Lazu... or his sneeze Azuu! you end up saying azul(es) - blue.

Amarillo Take out the r from armadillo, say the word amadillo, and it will almost sound the same as amarillo/a(s) - yellow.

Verde Green bears have their own calendar day on Bear Day, which almost sounds like verde(s) - green.

Negro A plant in a black, dark room will have no-grow. Instead of saying no-grow, say ne-grow which almost sounds like negro/a(s) - black.

Blanco What color comes to your mind when you think of a blank space? blanco/a(s) - white.

Morado - There is more shadow on a purple wall than on a black wall. Take out the sh from more shadow. More-adow sounds like morado/a(s) - purple.

Café What do some grown-ups like to drink in the morning? Coffee at the cafeteria - sounds like café. The word café is used for the drink and the color café(s) - brown.

Rosa The pink rose sounds like the color rosa(s) or rosado/a(s) - pink.

Gris The grease leaking from a car is gray. The word grease sounds like gris(es) - gray.

Anaranjado Separate the word into four parts... Ana-ran-hard-oh! Take the r in hard out and it sounds like anaranjado/a(s) - orange. The fruit "orange" is called naranja.